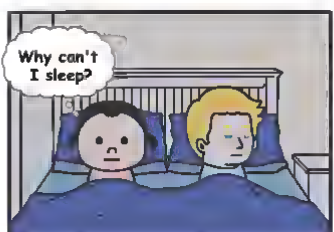
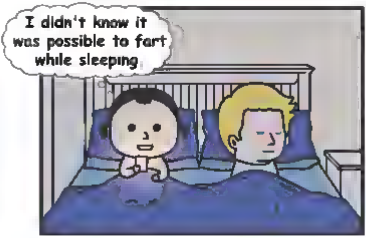
One night.



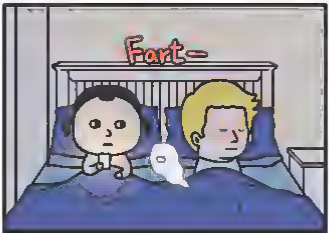
For some reason I couldn't sleep.



I thought the human body was so magical because it did it's job even though it was asleep.

I focused on playing the game.

So I decided to play games on my phone until I got sleepy.



Mev farted while he was sleeping.

But his fart smell started to leak out of the blanket when I moved my body

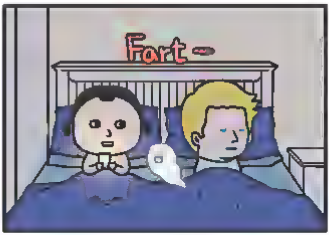
I understood the situation
so I focused on the game again.

Magical human body

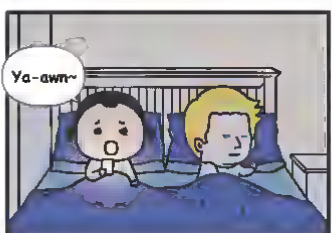
* This cartoon might be disgusting



He farted again!!

I started to get annoyed by his fart but I knew that it wasn't his fault so I calmed myself down.

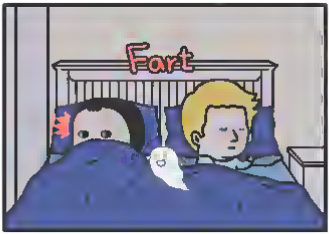
A little more time went by.



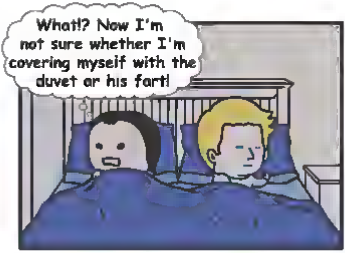
I finally felt sleepy
so I stopped playing games
and tried to sleep.

I'm so tired.
I think the stinky smell from inside the blanket has all gone as well.

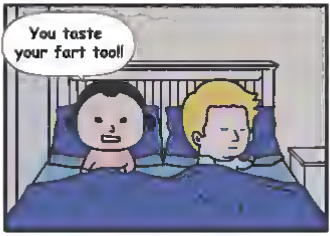
But...



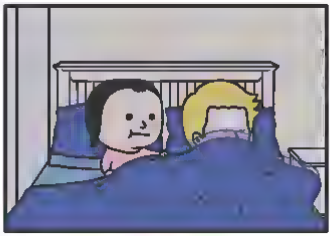
Like he wanted to tease me,
he farted for a third time



My patience reached its limit.



You taste your fart too!!



His face reacted automatically! How magical our bodies are!
